

GEN Z

Leading an Anxious Generation

Facilitated by Janna Surrells – ROE12 SEL Coach

Today's students are growing up in a world fully immersed in technology — connected, informed, and overwhelmed all at once

This professional development session equips educators and mentors with practical strategies to better understand, mentor, and lead Generation Z with purpose and confidence.

Participants will explore who Gen Z truly is, how technology shapes their learning, attention, and well-being, and why traditional approaches often fall short.

This session emphasizes actionable classroom strategies, mentor-led activities, and opportunities for educator collaboration to support students as they navigate identity, purpose, and decision-making in a technology-saturated world.
